

Hear Ye! Hear Ye!

1st June 2004

Welcome to our first newsletter for the 63rd National Rover Moot.

As is tradition in such things as Rover Moots, there is a theme. For the 63rd Moot it is to be Medieval. What is Medieval?, well it was a time when Knights were Knights, Squires were Squires, and little furry cratures from Alpha Centauri were still little furry creatures from Alpa Centauri! - But I digress. It was a time of Integrity, Honour, Bravery, Horses, Swords, Armour, Peasants, Ale and Great Feasts. And so it will be with this upcoming Rover Moot.

The venue for your upcoming pilgrimage is the aptly named Eyrewell Forest. This oasis 30 minutes northwest of the great village of Christchurch, Across the large moat of the the Waimakariri.

There will be a huge variety of tours to be had by our calvalcade. Including a tour suitable for all the fine Princesses out there. For the thirsty Knight, there is a tour of the finest ale houses in the village of Christchurch. For the more adventurous Knights and Squires you can go on a high speed raft or jump at a great height with a rubberband.

For the energetic you can venture cross country on a two wheeled steed.

At Mootalot, Eyrewell Forest, you can enjoy a range of activities. Including the famed Shooting Trophy, a Knight's dutiful service and, of course, the Archers Bar.

Accommodation at Mootalot is varied, with the Knights and Princesses staying within Mootalots walls. While the Squires stay in our specially set up encampments in the forest. The fare for the Moot will be of the highest standard, fit for a King or Queen. The Formal Feast will be on the Holy Day of the Moot. So please ensure that you bring your finest armour and livery.

If you are arriving into the village of Christchurch by a great bird, then you will be greeted and transported via a bulk carriage to Mootalot. If you are arriving via a smaller carriage then you will be given details via pigeon at a later date.

In due course, with more newsletters, you will receive your admission slip for the Medieval Moot. The amount of currency for attendance is still to be finalised but should be confirmed in short order. You can contact The Medieval Moot Round table via sevrul methods as listed below.

We look forward to your attendance at the Rover event of the Year. Where we can all get back together, meet old friends, make new friends and share a friendly ale or two.

Till Next Time

The Scribe.
